

Please hold wireless carriers to the November '02 deadline for implementing Local Number Portability. They are once again trying to avoid a service that would be beneficial to consumers. Verizon, in particular, is using excuses to protect their wireline business from losing customers to wireless carriers.